Colonial Electric Sponsorship Continues with The Chocolate Affair

Harwood, Maryland – January 7, 2010. Colonial Electric Co., Inc. has joined Health Care for the Homeless as a financial sponsor for The 19th Annual Chocolate Affair which takes place on February 4, 2010 at M&T Bank Stadium. The Chocolate Affair is a Baltimore tradition and a way for Colonial to show support for health related services, education and advocacy to reduce homelessness in Maryland. “This is a very important issue to me and to the entire Colonial Electric family,” said Colonial President and CEO Travis Katski. “Homelessness is a problem that we need to play an active role in solving, and that’s why I am so proud of Colonial for being involved in the Healthcare for the Homeless project and this wonderful Chocolate Affair.” Colonial Electric Co., Inc. is currently working as the Electrical Contractor with Harkins Builders on Health Care for the Homeless in Baltimore.
